The Goldilocks Phenomenon

I LOVE
REAL ESTATE

Let Me Read
You A Story!!

I LOVE
REAL ESTATE

PLATINUM

- Why do we stay motivated to reach some goals, but not others?
- Why do we say we want something, but give up on it after a few days?
- What is the difference between the areas where we naturally stay motivated and those where we give up?
- Steve Martin worked at it for 18 years. In his words, “10 years spent learning, 4 years spent refining, and 4 years spent in wild success.” His story offers a fascinating perspective on motivation, perseverance, and consistency.
- Steve’s autobiography is “Born Standing Up”

Scientists have been studying motivation for decades. While there is still much to learn, one of the most consistent findings is that perhaps the best way to stay motivated is to work on tasks of “just manageable difficulty.”

This concept is called the Goldilocks Rule

- For example, imagine you are playing tennis. If you try to play a serious match against a four-year-old, you will quickly become bored. The match is too easy. On the opposite end of the spectrum, if you try to play a serious match against a professional tennis player like Roger Federer or Serena Williams, you will find yourself demotivated for a different reason. The match is too difficult.
- Compare these experiences to playing tennis against someone who is your equal. As the game progresses, you win a few points and you lose a few points. You have a chance of winning the match, but only if you really try. Your focus narrows, distractions fade away, and you find yourself fully invested in the task at hand. The challenge you are facing is “just manageable”. Victory is not guaranteed, but it is possible. Tasks like these, science has found, are the most likely to keep us motivated in the long term.

- Tasks that are significantly below your current abilities are boring. Tasks that are significantly beyond your current abilities are discouraging. But tasks that are right on the border of success and failure are incredibly motivating to our human brains. We want nothing more than to master a skill just beyond our current horizon.

- We call this phenomenon The Goldilocks Rule. The Goldilocks Rule states that humans experience peak motivation when working on tasks that are right on the edge of their current abilities. Not too hard. Not too easy. Just right.

Steve Martin's comedy career was a perfect example of what The Goldilocks Rule looks like in the real world. Each year, the length of his comedy routines expanded, but only by a minute or two. He was always adding new material, but he also kept a few jokes that were guaranteed to get laughs. There were just enough victories to keep him motivated and just enough mistakes to keep him working hard.

This is why when setting your 2 year plans you shouldn't jump to a big deal too soon. Taking time to grow into your portfolio and strengths has a lot of merit.

Measure Your Progress

- The second piece of the motivation puzzle that is crucial is to achieve that perfect blend of hard work and happiness.
- Working on challenges of an optimal level of difficulty has been found to not only be motivating, but also to be a major source of happiness.
- This blend of happiness and peak performance is sometimes referred to as flow, which is what athletes and performers experience when they are “in the zone.”

Flow is the mental state you experience when you are so focused on the task at hand that the rest of the world fades away.

- The third motivation essential is seeing yourself make progress in the moment.

Two Steps to Consistent Motivation

- 1) Stick to The Goldilocks Rule and work on tasks of just manageable difficulty.
- 2) Measure your progress and receive immediate feedback whenever possible.
- Wanting to improve your life is easy. Sticking with it is a different part!
- If you want to stay motivated for good, then 1) start with a challenge that is just manageable, 2) measure your progress, and 3) repeat the process.

Absolutely stunning!

Selling by Open & Transparent Negotiation, 8th March 2017 (unless sold prior). Offers over $375,000.

This beautifully fully renovated home has all the comforts you can dream of. In fact, someone has done all the hard work for you so that you can move straight in and enjoy the comforts. As soon as you walk through the front door you have that wow! The open plan living and dining area is very spacious and has plenty of natural light with floating floor that flows seamlessly. The galley style kitchen has a real sense of style on sophistication with soft closing doors and plenty of storage space. All the appliances are new and have never been used comprising of 900m gas top, electric fan forced oven and dishwasher. Your guests can sit around the breakfast bar whilst you're cooking up a storm in the kitchen, in fact this is a well thought out plan as you can easily entertain your guests whilst still doing all your chores and putting the washing on in the large spacious laundry room. In this area, the back doors open out onto the entertaining area, another point of difference.

The master bedroom has its own ensuite with single vanity, shower and w/c, the 3 minor bedrooms are all good sizes and two of them have robes. The family bathroom is situated perfectly around them and again tastefully designed in keeping with the rest of the house with bath, single vanity and shower.

You will not be disappointed with the entertaining area as it is huge. A section which has shelter from the hot sun allows you to still mingle with your guests whilst they are playing in the pool which also comes with an outdoor shower. There is a further section of the garden which is perfect for an outdoor cinema and plenty of room for the kids and pets. A double drive way with carport provides ample of room for parking your boat, trailer and various toys.

Location is perfect with less than 20km from Perth and local schools and shops close by. This has got to be one to see and put on your short list. Call me today to view!

Principals of Good Copywriting -

- 1) Features Telland..... Benefits Sell – highlight the benefits!
- 2) Sculpt your copy to a target persona e.g. Mum of a young family first home buyer
- 3) Expand on the benefits & describe the positive impact on the target persona's life Plant the seeds
- 4) Tell them what they will loose if they don't act e.g. properties like this rarely come on the market, so don't be kicking yourself if you miss out on this gem!
- 5) Call to action – tell the reader what to do next – make it simple, direct and don't make them have to think!! E.g. Pick up the phone and call now.

Feedback -

AVERAGE

Feedback -

- Headline (Hook) = Weak (not attention grabbing)
- Body Text = Poor – describes the features not the benefits – makes the reader have to work to think of their own positive benefits = RISKY!!
 - Feature = Location is perfect with local schools and shops near by
 - Benefit / Emotion = Kids can easily walk to school freeing up your valuable time.

Feedback -

- Layout = Too wordy & written in paragraphs. Dot points best!
- Call to Action = Weak - Only call to action was to put it on your shortlist – we want them to buy it not short list it!!
- Missing Critical Info =
 - Subdivision & granny flat potential - Agent dismissed idea that property could be subdivided and a grannyflat could be added and so didn't include it in add – she said the market was first home buyers and they are not interested in that!!!! Agent has no right to make this assumption for buyers
